Profile

I am a copywriter who helps businesses find mutual languages with their audiences. While writing, I prioritize concise statements and numbers, as they gain the trust of prospective customers. I am looking to study business administration because I want to explore fundamental business concepts. They will give me flexibility in implementing the marketing trends that I know now.

Work Experience

Freelance Copywriter

April, 2022 - Current

- Translated small businesses’ websites from English to Russian and vice versa.
- Built a marketing strategy for a beginner nutritionist: conducted competitor analysis, created a competitive advantage, lead magnets, and content for the doctor’s landing page.
- Wrote texts for a seaport’s presentation website to help raise construction investments worth $350,000.

English school ‘SAY’, Freelance Copywriter

March, 2022 - Current

- Created and realized a one-year content schedule for the niche topic of studying English and preparation for the IELTS exam.
- Developed sales funnels that brought the company to a $10,000 monthly revenue.
- Determined 16 buying criteria and eased the work of Sales Administrators by creating two sales scripts.

Internship Experience

Public Relations ‘Wild’, Marketing Assistant Intern

September, 2022 - October, 2022

- Built three mass recruitment funnels.
- Collected two client databases in Excel and realized a Direct Marketing campaign that targeted over 400 recipients.

Community Service

Environmental organization ‘COW CleanOurWorld’

May, 2021 - September, 2021

- 1 of 3 out of 200 candidates assigned to educate 1,000 Russian-speaking youth about environmental issues.
- Started the Greatest Environmental Disasters series and wrote 27 posts.

Professional Development

The University of Edinburgh’s Introduction to Marketing

(2023)

- Expanded knowledge of market segmentation, types of customer loyalty, and competitive advantage development.
- Applied it to writing content for small businesses’ landing pages.

Kontur School’s Professional Certificate in Digital Marketing

(2022)

- Learned the basics of Direct Marketing and Content Marketing.
- Used this course to minimize cliches, legalese, and value judgments in content writing.

University of MarylandX’s Product Management Fundamentals – edX

(2022)

- Explored the product development life cycle, 5C analysis, and basics of crossing the chasm.
- Used this course to define and present the benefits of products and services to their target audiences. Also used it for upselling and increasing customer trust.
